

Breath in. Breath out. Think forward.

We are Pulmotree: a young medical technology start-up from Munich. The headquarters in the creative district of Maxvorstadt is where our hearts beat.

This is the place where new ideas and concepts for our innovative respiratory therapy devices come to life. And this is the place that is saying farewell to outdated processes and ways of thinking.

Working Student (m/f/d) Marketing - Content Marketing & Social Media

As part of one of our teams in Munich you will support us in raising the awareness of our innovative products to the next level by

- Designing online content (text and graphics)
- Researching relevant medical topics
- Writing editorial texts (English/German)
- Postings on social media (i.e. LinkedIn)

THIS IS WHAT YOU SHOULD BRING WITH YOU

- You are majoring in business administration, communications, language, or similar and you have....
- a very creative vein
- talent in writing captivating texts
- very good knowledge of English (and German)
- Analytical thinking, teamwork and communication skills
- Conscientious, organized and independent working style
- Ideally first experience in marketing (e.g. internship) and
- practical experience in the field of SEO

AND THAT'S WHAT WE CAN OFFER

- Work in a professional and performance-oriented environment in international teams
- Plenty of freedom to contribute your own ideas
- A fantastic team and a great workplace in our Maxvorstadt office
- Freedom to develop and advance your own ideas
- And of course an appropriate salary

Sounds good? Great! Then we look forward to receiving your online application via jobs@pulmotree.com
